The Minden Red Cross Society honoured three of its members last Wednesday evening at the annual meeting. Al Stott, left, Earl Hewitt and Grace Coburn all received citations for their many years of dedicated service to Red Cross. On hand to make the presentations were, retiring president, Dave McKinlay, centre, Ontario Red Cross president, Ed Buchan, second from right and the Minden Society's new president, Brian Adamson.

Challenges change for Society

The members of the Minden Red Cross Society were urged to maintain their involvement with the local hospital, even though control of the facility has passed from the Red Cross to St. Joseph's Hospital in Peterborough. The challenge to continue to take an active interest in the hospital's operation was offered by president of the Ontario Red Cross, Ed Buchan. He was a guest speaker at the group's annual meeting held March 28 at the Minden Curling Club.

"The hospital is a part of you, a part of your community," Buchan stated. "Involve yourself in it."

The Ontario president said that it was becoming more difficult to attract dedicated individuals to volunteer service in the community. He said organizations like the Red Cross must convince people that there is a place for volunteerism in their lives. "We must demonstrate that while the volunteer may not reap a monetary reward, his or her return is greater," the speaker said.

Buchan praised the Minden Red Cross Society pointing out that the reports offered earlier in the meeting indicated the depth of the group's involvement in the community. "You can be proud of the service you have provided to your hospital and your community," he told the gathering.

The speaker suggested the local group should consider taking on new challenges, now that they are no longer directly involved in the operation of the hospital. He suggested, for example, the group become involved in youth work, or assistance to seniors or in sponsoring a first aid course.

The provincial president paid special tribute to Minden member Jim Burton who had served as regional Red Cross chairman for a number of years. "Jim provided this area with strong leadership and contributed a great deal to Red Cross," Buchan noted.

He also pointed out that Ken Morely of the Haliburton Red Cross Society was now serving in that same capacity. "There must be something about the Haliburton Highlands which produces men of this calibre," he stated.

Special awards

Prior to the address by the guest speaker, a number of awards were presented to Minden Red Cross members.

Jim Burton received a certificate of merit for his service to the Society. He joined the Society in 1975, working with the water safety program for several years. He was also president of the local branch between 1978-80 and regional chairman from 1980-83.

Helen Burton also received a certificate of merit. She joined the Society in 1976 and has been active with the A.I.D. program since 1977.

Three individuals were presented with distinguished service awards and citations. Among those honoured were:

Grace Coburn, who joined the Red Cross in 1953. She was involved in the building committee for the Minden Red Cross Hospital, served as secretary from 1955 to 1959, assisted with the annual campaign between 1962 and 1964, served as president of the local organization from 1967 to 1969, a member of the board of governors during 1978-79 and on the board of directors from 1979 to the present.

Earl Hewitt joined the Red Cross in 1948. He was involved in disaster relief services from 1951 to 1963, served as president in 1964-65, was the building

The 21 unit senior citizens apartment complex which is due to be built in Minden this summer will cost close to $700,000 to construct. The tenders for the project were opened March 28 by the Staunworth Housing Authority.

The housing authority accepted the bid of Arosan Enterprises Limited of Scarborough in the amount of $695,200. A supplementary bid of $24,000 for landscaping was also accepted. The Arosan bid was the lowest of six received for the project.

The housing authority accepted the bid of Arosan bid was the lowest of six received for the project.

While the bid has been accepted by the local housing authority and a letter of intent has been issued to the builder, final approval of the contract will not come until the Ontario

Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing has also added its endorsement.

According to the housing authority's chairman, Anson, Hindon and Minden Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas, construction is slated to begin the first of May with completion expected within 22 weeks, or sometime in September. The tender includes a completed building with major appliances in each apartment and other furnishings in the common areas.

Five other contractors submitted bids on the project. They included:

- Easton Brothers Builders Limited of Bancroft with a bid of $734,800 and a completion time of 28 weeks. The landscaping was bid at $19,400.
- Natev Construction Limited of Etobicoke with a bid of $777,777 which taxes and fuel costs that were lower than expected contributed to the 1983 surplus.

The provincial restraint program had both a positive and negative effect on the budget increase. Teacher salaries, which were negotiated in September, were held to a 5% increase, but the provincial grant support was increased by only 3.1%.

In addition, because of the difference between the board's proposed expenditures and those recognised for provincial grants, the budget is $329,174 in excess of the spending ceilings.

The trustees began working on the budget in February after school principals from each school in the county submitted their budgets to board's business administrator Stan Baker. "The trustees went over the budget with a fine toothcomb and they cut as far as they could without affecting the educational system," he commented.

The following figures detail the amount required included the landscaping. Completion time was estimated at 32 weeks.

- Lisgar Construction Company of Toronto, with a price of $818,000 and a completion time of 28 weeks. The landscaping was to cost $22,000 extra.

- Don Wilson Construction Company of Lindsay bid $835,978 with completion estimated at 24 weeks. Landscaping would cost $35,791 extra.

- The bid submitted by P.D.I. Structure Incorporated of Lindsay was ruled invalid because of a number of technical problems. The bid from the company was $913,000.

Pergolas noted that while Arosan was selected as the general contractor for the project, a number of sub-trades used on the job would involve local tradesmen.

Minden, Nebraska, U.S.A.

by Hilde Lange

Approaching Minden, Nebraska from the north on a sunny day in mid-summer, a visitor would wonder just what thriving metropolitan area was ahead. Although we are located 12 miles south of Interstate 80, this is not the reason for the heavy traffic.

Minden is the home of the famous Harold Warp Pioneer Village Foundation which has attracted over 4 million visitors since its opening in 1953. The Pioneer Village is open every day of the year but the summer vacation months are by far the times when the greatest number of tourists converge on Minden. It is not unusual to have as many people on the grounds of the Village as in the entire town of Minden.

This may sound like it could pose a problem, since the Pioneer Village covers only 3 city blocks, but it is extremely well planned and visitors are carefully guided through the buildings following arrows on the floors and sidewalks.

There are 24 buildings situated in a circle around a village green in the style of a typical early village, but it is possible to view the entire attraction by walking less than a mile.

An often asked question is "How did a small town like Minden, Nebraska, happen to get such a well-known tourist attraction?" The answer is very simple. The founder, Harold Warp, is a native of Minden, having been born on a farm southeast of town. In 1924, at the age of 20, he had obtained a patent for a plastic window covering he called Flex-O-Glass and went to Chicago to seek his fortune. Today a wide range of Warp's Flex-O-Glass products are sold all over the world.

When the country school Harold Warp attended as a boy was to be auctioned off in 1948, he purchased it with all the records intact. Shortly after the purchase of the school, the first church built in Minden was to be dismantled, so Warp bought it too. He purchased the 20 acres on Highway 6 on the north edge of Minden and moved the school house and church onto the site.

There followed several years of planning, building, collecting and restoring. Warp's sister Clara Jensen and her auctioneer husband T.C. Jensen, travelled thousands of miles collecting items for the displays at Pioneer Village.

The collecting was done with one single goal in mind. Warp wanted to have a complete "one of each" collection to show man's progress from 1830 to the present. Some antique lovers did not understand this purpose and did not approve of the repainting and rebuilding of relics. But the whole idea of Pioneer Village is to show these items just as they looked when in use. Therefore, every piece of machinery in the Village is in working order as far as possible.

There is a sign over the main entrance that reads: "For thousands of years man lived quite simply. Then, like a sleeping giant, our world was awakened. In a mere hundred and twenty years of eternal time, man progressed from open hearths, grease lamps and ox carts, to television, supersonic speed and atomic power. We have endeavored to show you the actual development of this astounding progress as it was unfolded by our forefathers and by ourselves... This Pioneer Village covers twenty acres, with 200,000 square feet of floor space, housing thousands of irreplaceable items of historical value, all restored to operating order, arranged in groups and also in the chronological order of their development... We kindly ask that you help us protect these items so that we, our children, and our children's children may also have the privilege of seeing them."

Once inside the main building, the visitor to Pioneer Village finds the evolution of transportation display which includes conestoga wagons, stage coaches, airplanes, locomotives, street cars, and automobiles. In addition to the over 200 cars, are rigs of special interest such as the peddler's wagon, horse-drawn hearse, street sprinkler, mail cart and a real gypsy wagon. Our Canadian friends would especially enjoy seeing the evolution of the snowmobile.

Once outside and going around the circle, tourists are fascinated by the array of buildings, all authentically furnished. The Elm Creek Fort is a 2 storey Indian Fort built of logs in 1869. Every building, indeed every item, has a write-up on it so that visitors may spend as little or as much time as they wish reading about the history of individual things of special interest.

chairman from 1970 to 1980 and is a member of the board of directors. He has also taken a very active part in the fund raising efforts of the Society.

Allan Stott became a member of the Red Cross in 1943. He helped organize the loan cupboard, served in the Dundas branch and has been involved with homemaker's services and emergency services. He has worked as campaign manager between 1944-50, was president of the Dundas branch from 1954 and president of the Minden branch during 1976-77. He is also a member of the board of directors.

Special appreciation certificates were also presented to two local service clubs. Minden Rotary Club president Bill Obee accepted the certificate in appreciation for the club's contribution of $30,000 toward the purchase of a new x-ray machine for the hospital. Minden Kinsman, Don Nye, was presented with a certificate expressing the Society's appreciation for the new board room table donated by the club.

New executive

Retiring president Dave McKinlay told the meeting that it had been an interesting two years. He noted the transition of the hospital from Red Cross control made his term as president a very active one. The outgoing president paid tribute to the executive of the Society and its members for their support. In particular, he thanked Al Stott whom he described as "the backbone of our Society." Referring to all the members of the Society, McKinlay stated, "I am very fortunate to live here and enjoy that kind of support."

The election of the new executive followed with Brian Adamson being selected as the new president for the coming term. Other members of the executive include vice president Jim Grant, secretary Judy Davis and the treasurer is Syd Adamson.

The new president told the meeting that he was looking forward to working with the members of the association. He accepted the challenge offered by the guest speaker earlier in the evening saying that he would like to see the Red Cross expand its involvement in the community.

Police investigate break-in

A police investigation is continuing into a break-in at the home of Royce Bain of Dysart Township.

The owner of the property discovered his home had been broken into 7:00 p.m. March 29. The intruder had removed the car keys from the house and made off with a 1977 Ford Pinto parked outside.

The vehicle was discovered a short time later, less than a mile from the residence. It had overturned into a ditch and was destroyed.

Constable Al Bibby is the investigating officer.

Deer struck

Three deer have been downed by vehicles during the past week in the county. Two of the animals were killed on Highway 118 while the third met its end on County Road One near Gelert. The damage to the vehicles involved in the incidents was $950.

Guide posts

23 guide posts were clipped from the side of the road following a single car accident March 31. The mishap occurred on Highway 121 near the Allsaw bridge.

According to the police, a small pick-up truck driven by Eileen Hughes of Minden left the roadway and struck the barrier posts. The driver was uninjured. Damage to the vehicle was estimated at $4,000.

The matter was investigated by Constable Wim Magee. A charge of careless driving has been laid.

Skid

Damage was estimated at $1500 following a single vehicle accident on the Peterson Road in Minden Township. Wade Woodward was the driver of a 1977 model Honda which skidded off the roadway and flipped over after hitting the snow cone.

The matter was investigated by Constable Mike Legge.

REAL ESTATE LTD.

Bill Payne, president of Bill Payne Real Estate Ltd. today announced the appointment of Bob Stinson, former manager of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce, as a sales representative for the firm.

During the past eight years as Chamber manager Bob gained an enviable reputation for his integrity and professional approach to business, which is most important in the Real Estate industry. Although he resigned from that position last summer he has maintained his involvement in community affairs and the promotion of the Tourism industry in our county. He is presently serving as a director of Resorts Ontario and of the Haliburton Highlands Hospitality Training Committee and is a member of the executive of the Central Ontario Travel Association.

The knowledge Bob has gained, and the business contacts he has made over the years will prove to be a major asset to both himself and the firm.

An excellent example

The guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Minden Red Cross Society, Ed Buchan claims there is a crisis in service organizations. The president of the provincial Red Cross Society told the meeting last Wednesday that fewer dedicated people are stepping forward to volunteer their services in aid of their fellow man.

Mr. Buchan's perspective on this situation is perhaps broader than our own considering his provincial and national concerns. While what he had to say may have implications on the broader scale, it doesn't, as he admitted, apply on a local level.

Indeed, the group he was addressing offered first hand proof that the importance of man helping man is not a value which has disappeared in small-town Canada.

The Minden Red Cross Society has extended a helping hand to many parts of our community and the world. As is often the case in organizations like this, their presence and value often goes unrecognized until the need is pressing and personal. For example, the local Society maintains a loan cupboard of commonly needed health aids such as crutches, canes and wheel chairs. For most, however, the existence of the service is not obvious until needed.

The same holds true for the Red Cross Homemaker's Service or the community disaster relief assistance plan which the local Society can activate when needed. On an individual level, the Red Cross has responded quickly and efficiently when for example, a family loses all their possessions in a fire.

The Society's support of the local hospital is certainly a more obvious indication of their sustained involvement in the community's needs. Likewise, their support in the past, of the learn to swim program is indicative of the group's wide range of interest.

Nationally and internationally the local Society provides financial and moral support. The annual Red Cross bazaar regularly raises funds for international relief work.

All these programs are co-ordinated by a dedicated and hard working group of local volunteers. The sincerity of their dedication was evident in the citations and awards presented Wednesday to members for their many years of service to Red Cross and their fellow man.

Groups like the Minden Red Cross Society can always use more volunteers and certainly greater support from the community. But, we believe, the local group represents an excellent example of what volunteer service means. Congratulations to the Minden Society members for their efforts in the past and their continuing concern for the community they serve.

Local autonomy hurt

- by John Eakins, MPP -

A number of municipalities in this riding have written to me to the effect that local autonomy for Ontario municipalities has been dealt another blow by our Ontario government.

In the Barrie-Vespra dispute, the Ontario government has brought forward legislation that will allow the annexation of about 2,000 acres of Vespra Township to the City of Barrie. This is far in excess of the amount designated by the Ontario Municipal Board.

Mr. Bennett, in introducing the legislation last December stated that he "could not sanction yet another round of OMB hearings. Further, I take the view that there is no prospect of negotiating a solution."

For some reason, the Minister has chosen to ignore the Municipal Boundary Negotiations Act. This Act was designed to facilitate the negotiation and resolution of boundary and boundary-related issues, so that local politicians could make the decisions based on negotiations similar to union contract talks and outside of the judicial process or the OMB.

The principle behind this Bill was one that Mr. Bennett himself endorsed when in his speech to the Association of Municipalities of Ontario last August, he stated, "It has been my contention that the closer to home a decision is made, the more likely it is to be correct and just."

Now, the Minister and the government are imposing a 'made in Toronto solution' on a small rural government. Yet it was only last April when in commenting on the government's involvement in the Brantford - Brant boundary dispute, Mr. Bennett said, "the approach used in the Brantford - Brant Annexation Act will not be repeated elsewhere because disputes will now be dealt with under the newly proclaimed Municipal Boundary Negotiations Act."

It is no wonder that residents in Vespra feel betrayed by the misrepresentation of the government.

My colleagues and I, along with many municipalities, are calling on the government to withdraw this Bill and allow this matter to be resolved fairly under the Municipal Boundary Negotiations Act.

Clearly what is at stake here is local autonomy and the rights of a rural government to be treated as fairly as any large city. As Chairman of our Rural Task Force, I am very concerned as to this action by government and the precedent it sets to the disadvantage of rural Ontario.

Having observed many a moth perish from an encounter with the propane lights at the cottage, I've never had much respect for their survival skills. But it turns out these nocturnal creatures have to contend with a variety of enemy weapons you'd never expect to find outside the Pentagon in Washington.

For openers, there are bats, with their pinpoint accurate radar. Though some bat cries are within the frequency range audible to human ears, their navigation is accomplished with the aid of very high pitched signals which bounce off objects in their environment in similar fashion to sonar in a submarine. By continually sending out these signals they can quickly build up an image of their surroundings to the point of discriminating between solid and mobile objects.

Moths, of course, fall into the latter category of objects but, as evaluation would have it, not without some sophisticated defensive equipment of their own ears. That's right, moth ears. Positioned on the front of the moth's body, they enable detection of bats at a range of 2 metres to 40 metres according to the work of Ontario researchers reported in the Globe and Mail. This early warning system improves their chance of survival by 40% says biologist James Fullard. What's more, it has been determined that moth's hearing abilities are closely adapted to the specific cries of the bat species inhabiting their home territory.

But don't breathe easily just yet. Now we come to a more insidious threat - sex. It's a little more x-rated than the story we all learned about the spider and the fly. But the ending is the same.

Hartwick win league championship

The Men's Recreational Hockey season came to a close on Monday night as Hartwick Construction won the fifth and deciding game in the final playoff series. Hartwick defeated the Rockcliffe Foamblowers 10-5 to clinch the championship.

During the regular season the 'Blowers remained on top of the standings and never lost a game to second place Hartwick. But Hartwick's luck changed in finals when they jumped to a two game lead in the best of five series.

The 'Blowers, with their backs to the wall, fought back to tie the series and set the stage for Monday's contest.

The game proved to be a see-saw contest until the last five minutes of play.

Kim Hamilton opened the scoring for the 'Blowers on an unassisted goal at the two minute mark. Three minutes later John Barkwell scored for Hartwick with help from his linemates Dave Dollo and Lawrence Lougheed. The first period ended in a 1-1 tie.

The 'Blowers went ahead again in the second on a power play goal by Wayne Johnson. Dave Brown assisted on the play.

John Barkwell put Hartwick up by one after scoring two shorthanded goals in a row. Dave Hartwick picked up an assist on the second goal.

The 'Blowers came back to tie the game 3-3 to end the second period. Dave Brown connected on the tying goal and assists went to Rick Boucher and Jim Todd.

Rockcliffe goalie Gene Gavis and Hartwick's Doug Pearson continued their fine play into the third period as the offense on both teams put on a lot of pressure to break the deadlock. John Barkwell finally connected to put Hartwick up by a goal but Harris Steele moved in alone two minutes later and popped in the tying marker.

Steve Crowe and John Barkwell then put Hartwick up by two on assists from John Outram and Lawrence Lougheed.

With seven minutes left in the game Dave Brown scored to bring the Foamblowers within one goal on a pass from Bernard Greer and Jim Keetch.

That was as close as the 'Blowers got however. In the last five minutes of play Hartwick scored four unanswered goals to ensure their victory. Dave Dollo scored a pair and John Barkwell went out in style as he scored his sixth and seventh goals of the game.

Barkwell's seven goals and an assist made him the top gun for Hartwick. His linemates Dave Dollo with a pair of goals and two assists, and Lawrence Lougheed with four assists also played a key role in Hartwick's victory.

Dave Brown was the top scorer for the 'Blowers with two goals and an assist.

"It's Neat to Pitch In". That is the slogan for Ontario's 1984 Pitch-In Campaign to be held May 7-13.

Keeping Ontario beautiful is a responsibility that we all share. The annual Pitch-In campaign is designed to encourage Ontarians both young and old, to voluntarily clean up the unsightly litter that frequently accumulates during winter months.

Pitch-In '84 is sponsored by the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters and is endorsed and supported by the Ontario Ministry of Environment.

Saturday, May 12 will be designated as "Pitch-In Day" and any school which wishes to participate in the campaign by organizing special environmental projects has the enthusiastic support of the Ministry of Education.

If you are planning to Pitch-In and help Haliburton County spring clean, we would like to hear from you, (286-1760). Together we can meet the challenge to keep Haliburton County beautiful.

Events

Plan to attend the Rails' End Gallery exhibition of arts and crafts opening on April 4. This show will run until April 28 and will feature 7 area artists. There will also be a show by painter and photographer Sheila Maki.

The Agnes Jamieson Gallery in Minden will be opening their show on April 5. They will feature 5 artists from the Bobcaygeon area. Both shows sound very interesting.

Minden Curling Club will be "Sweeping Their Way Into Spring" on April 7.

New members

West Shore Glass, a new member in Haliburton Village has a showroom unique to this area. They feature a fine display of mirror and room design in glass and mirror. Each display unit is built as a separate room, so you get an idea of the total effect of building with glass. Drop in and see them, I think you will find the store very interesting. Prices are right too.

Heather Lodge is located next to Wedgewood Marina, Highway 35 on Twelve Mile Lake and is owned and operated by Robert Cairns. The main lounge and dining room has a stone fireplace and seats 40 people. They also have a sun deck overlooking two lakes. Renovations are still in progress but they do have a limited number of rooms available for this summer. Bob and Heather are very pleasant hosts, and I'm sure they will be a welcome addition to the hospitality industry in Haliburton County.

Ryte Data is a mail order information service located in Haliburton. The service is owned and operated by Bruce Ryan. Bruce runs the mail service from his home, Lot 19, Concession 4, R. R. 2, Haliburton. The mail order business is relatively new to this area. Maybe that's why so many people are phoning to enquire, "what is Ryte Data all about"? Bruce will be happy to answer any questions if you call him at 457-2774.

Post cards

You may order post cards from the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce at a very reasonable price. You supply a good quality photograph of the scene you wish printed and we will have the printing done for you. The picture should be a scene from Haliburton County.

For more information, you may enquire at the Chamber office, 286-1760.

Bags

We still have a supply of the coming events shopping bags available at $16.50 per 1000 or $5.00 per 100. Order yours while the supply lasts.

Meeting

Our next board meeting will be held in Monmouth Township on April 26 at 7:30 p.m. We would ask all our members in that area to attend and bring a friend.

Kinette Corner

by Cathy King

On March 13, the Minden Kinettes held their general meeting and dinner at the Wagon Wheel. Vice President Joanne Cubbidge had the pleasure of chairing the evening on her birthday; and we congratulate her on a job well done.

Guests for the evening were Sue Payne and Elsie Sedore; and Toni Carr and Carol Craigmyle. With the growing popularity of "colours", everyone enjoyed the entertainment. Toni Carr demonstrated the methods used to help people improve their appearance and self esteem through the magic of colour. By discovering the palette of colours that brings out a person's natural beauty, Toni is then able to recommend makeup colours and provide a palette of colour swatches for wardrobe planning. President Sue won the draw for a gift certificate for colour analysis or makeup.

Board stands by policy

The Haliburton County Board of Education trustees have unanimously agreed not to amend a recent motion that established a new policy regarding public delegations to Board meetings.

The issue of public accessibility was raised at the monthly meeting of the board on March 27. The policy which was based on a motion passed in December 1983, had been criticized in a letter from Paul Dillon of West Guilford that was published in the Haliburton County Echo on March 21.

Under the new policy individuals or delegations who wish to approach the board are directed to an appropriate committee where the concerns are dealt with. If the concerns are not resolved at the committee level the delegation can apply in writing to the board to be heard at a general meeting.

In his letter Mr. Dillon wrote "As a result (of the new policy), any members of the public, parents and rate-payers alike, are denied direct and formal access to the decision making body for our school. Further the public is now dependent on a third party, the specific committee involved, to carry on their issue with the same motivation and conviction to the Board."

Director of Education J. Douglas Hodgson in commenting on the policy change stated "This came about because the committee was able to work out a solution to the problem." He added, "It was less formal than a board meeting."

Trustee Cheryl Murdoch who introduced the motion to establish the new policy noted, "a committee could meet at an earlier date than the board" and added "this would speed up the process". Commenting further she noted, "Nine times out of ten this could be settled at a committee level". She went on to explain that if the delegation was not satisfied the committee could assist the delegation in approaching the board.

In his letter, Mr. Dillon also expressed the concern that "public exposure of the issues and the process by which they are resolved is effectively suppressed as committee business is transacted at the exclusion of the press."

In commenting on Mr. Dillon's concern Mr. Hodgson pointed out that unless the board or a committee adjourns to a Committee of the Whole which is defined by Ministry of Education guidelines, the committee meetings are open to the public and the press. "Our business is more open than it has ever been" he commented.

The trustees agreed to let the minutes of the meeting show that the board had reviewed the motion and was satisfied with it as it stands.

MUNICIPAL HERITAGE AWARDS

The Municipality is pleased to announce that as part of our 125th Anniversary celebrations recognition will be made of certain individuals for their contribution to the community. A committee has been chosen to administer the selection process and your assistance will be most appreciated. We have outlined details of this award below and look forward to receiving a nomination list from you at any time through the year.

What The Award Is For

The Heritage Award is a token of appreciation to those many individuals who give of themselves so readily and unselfishly that our community as a whole is better for their efforts. More often than not such efforts are only known to a few persons even though the benefits extend to us all. The Heritage Award allows us all to say, "Thank you."

Who Will Receive It

Any person, living or deceased, may receive the award if nominated and selected for their contribution to the Townships of Anson, Hindon, and Minden.

What The Award Is

The Heritage Award consists of a framed certificate that describes the appreciation of the Municipality and is issued to the individual by Resolution of Council.

How It Will Be Awarded

The awards will be made throughout the year at various 125th Anniversary celebrations.

How Many Will Be Awarded

It is expected that more will be awarded in 1984 (to catch up on overdue 'thank-you's) than in future years. In 1985 perhaps only two or three will be presented.

How Nominations Are Made

Any person, any group or organization may send one or more nominations in confidence to HERITAGE AWARD, BOX 476, MINDEN, ONTARIO K0M 2K0. The nomination(s) should be accompanied by a brief explanation of why each individual is being nominated, and the approximate years that person's efforts took place. The nominations do not have to be signed by the nominee or the nominator. Nominations may be made more than once, and at any time.

County road summary

Many of the roads in the Haliburton County system were part of the 1983 construction program, according to a report offered by county engineer Bill Obee March 21. The engineer provided details on the work carried out last year and gave the members of county council a report on what is planned for the coming year.

The 1983 construction projects included:

- Reconstruction of County Road 1, former Hwy. 519, from Lochlin toward Haliburton.

- Deep Bay Road, County Road 2, in the area of Little Gull Lake.

- Buckhorn Road, County Road 3, from the Dysart - Glamorgan boundary up to Hwy. 121 for complete resurfacing of the road.

- Essonville Road, County Road 4, completed the project that was started in 1982 which required some clean up.

- McGillivray Road, County Road 9, reconstruction of a box culvert at the Bicroft Mines road entrance

- Hawk Lake Road, continued with the by-pass around the present County Road 13 (Hawk Lake Road)

- Harburn Road, County Road 19, reconstruction at the north end of the road which was basically a heavy maintenance programme to get a part of the road under control for the next few years. Some major construction could be commenced on the southern end of the roadway.

Wednesday, April 4, 1984

Construction plans for this year included the spending of the following amounts on the roads listed:

- County Road One, formerly Highway 519, $250,000.

- County Road 2, Deep Bay Road, $150,000.

- County Road 4, Essonville Line, $150,000.

- County Road 13, Hawk Lake Road, $100,000.

Council pleased with response

Haliburton County Council has received what Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey described as "a positive response" from the Minister of Natural Resources concerning a new trapping policy which is soon to be implemented. The letter from the minister was read at the March 21 meeting of the council.

Earlier this year the council had notified the minister of its objection to the new policy which would limit the number of trappers in an area. In particular the council was concerned about trappers in an area. In particular the council was concerned about the impact the new policy would have on the rights of land owners to control what takes place on their property.

The letter from the minister, Alan Pope, agreed to delay the implementation of the policy in the Minden District of the MNR until further discussions had been held with land owners, trappers and others concerned with the policy.

Pope said that his ministry had gone to great lengths to ensure the policy was well publicised among those concerned. He pointed out that the policy had been developed with the assistance of trappers and that it had been endorsed by trappers' councils in all but four or five of the province's 101 districts.

The minister pointed out that the policy was developed over three years ago and was just now being introduced so it would not cause problems during the transition.

"Your letter indicates there appears to have been minimal involvement between my ministry and the trappers and virtually no involvement with the land owners," Pope's letter stated. "This concerns me very much. I am therefore prepared to delay the implementation of this program in the Minden District with the understanding that it will be fully explained to all parties concerned and everyone provided with an opportunity for input." The letter goes on to explain that local staff will begin the process of informing those concerned.

The minister also answered some of the specific concerns raised by the council. He noted that elimination of the trapper education program would be discriminatory and could result in a backlash in that it could tarnish the image of trapping in the province. He noted that some of those taking the courses already hold trapping licences and are upgrading their skills while others attend merely for the educational experience. The minister suggested the government must be careful to ensure the support of the industry in Canada and overseas since 93% of the province's furs are exported.

Pope also explained that establishing a minimum acreage for trapping would eliminate those with small lots who could simply use a trapping licence to poach on their own property.

He also pointed out that trappers who use another person's property must have the landowner's permission before doing so.

Pope agreed with the council's suggestion that quotas should be used in issuing trapping licences, however he suggests that management units must be identified first to calculate the number of trappers an area could support.

"Unless we can demonstrate that trapping is done humanely on a controlled, scientific basis by fully trained trappers, the future of trapping is bleak," the minister's letter concluded. "I feel certain that once the program is fully understood, its positive benefits will appear attractive to many of those who now oppose it."

Fearrey said the county's objections appear to have reached the minister and, "there appears to be a good chance we will get the changes we requested."

Meeting considers historical society

County residents interested in establishing an historical society in the Highlands heard an interesting and informative presentation March 22.

Representatives of the Museums Branch of the Ministry of Citizenship and Culture and the executive director of the Historical Societies of Ontario were on hand at the Wig-A-Mog Inn to address an audience of approximately 40.

Stanhope Reeve Harry Davis, who organized the meeting along with Minden resident Roy Windover, welcomed those in attendance, commenting that he was very encouraged by the response.

Dorothy Duncan of the Historical Societies of Ontario explained how a local society could be formed. She noted that by being affiliated with the provincial body, the local organization immediately obtains a non-profit status and is able to accept donations which are tax deductible.

She said the provincial body supports the efforts of local organizations by providing information through pamphlets, publications and other services designed to provide access to expert advice and assistance.

Mrs. Duncan told the audience, "We often think that what happens here is not important. We think that history is made in other, more exotic, locales like Ottawa, or New York or London. One of the main purposes of historical societies is to help the communities become aware that in fact history did happen here."

She pointed out that historical societies can take many routes in their effort to make the community aware of its history. Some, she pointed out, operated museums of local interest, others hold special events such as re-enactments or displays, while others may collect oral or written histories of their community.

The speaker from the Museums Branch of the Ministry of Citizenship and Culture, Marty Brent explained how a museum can be established in a community and what steps should be taken to ensure the integrity of the organization and its displays.

She noted that a museum provides employment, is a tourist attraction, a community resource centre, an educational resource for local schools and provides a place where the community can preserve its heritage.

Brent explained that funding for the establishment of new museums is limited now. There was a time when the province was providing seed money for the establishment of museums in various parts of Ontario. However, she said the priorities have changed to ensuring the museums now in place are operating on a sound basis and that their collections are being well maintained.

Mr. Davis told the gathering that a society in the county would have a unique opportunity to help preserve what is already here. He suggested the canoe museum would have to be moved from its present location eventually to give it more visibility.

County Warden, Lyle McKnight told the meeting that he felt the museum was an asset worth saving. He expressed disappointment that not all municipalities in the county were represented at the meeting. He said he hoped, by joint action, the historical society would be able to help ensure the canoe collection stays in the county without disagreement over where it should be located.

Four more favour tree cutting bylaw

At least four more county townships have indicated their intention to adopt the tree cutting by law which has been in force for over a year in the municipality of Dysart et al.

The municipalities of Anson, Hindon and Minden, Stanhope, Monmouth and Bicroft, all indicated at the March 21 meeting of Haliburton County Council that they are willing to have their names added to the by law during the April meeting of the council. The municipal involvement in the tree protection by law must be endorsed at the county level because it involves legislation under the provincial Trees Act. Each municipality will be responsible for administering the by law within its jurisdiction.

There have been lengthy, and sometimes heated, debates at the county level regarding the need for the tree cutting by law. Some politicians felt that the regulation should be applied on a county-wide basis to obtain the maximum benefit possible from the controls. However, other members of county council were reluctant to endorse the regulation on an across the board basis, indicating that they objected to certain provisions of the by law which could be interpreted as an infringement on personal property rights. Others opposed to the by law expressed concern over how the cost of implementing the regulation would be shared, fearing they would have to carry a greater portion of the cost than they would realize in benefit.

Rather than attempt to convince all municipalities to endorse the by law, the proponents of the regulations have suggested that those townships who feel it could be of value to them should ask to be included in the existing by law.

The purpose of the by law is to place some controls on the harvesting of valuable hardwood timber. In particular those favouring the by law have pointed to clear cutting operations which have been carried out for firewood. According to the experts, such cut-overs are not likely to regenerate hardwood trees, but rather less valuable softwood and scrub trees would cover the area.

The by law was drafted by Ministry of Natural Resources personnel with input from loggers and local politicians.

Two genera of spiders have forsaken the traditional web of their ancestral family, the orb weavers, and have found new ways to feed themselves by luring male moths to their death. It sounds like the stuff of legend and it's every bit as fantastic. To catch their prey one kind of spider, the Kaira, hangs upside down from its own silken line with legs outstretched and simply grabs its prey in mid-air. The other type, called Mastophora, actually throws out a similar silken cord, with a minute drop of what amounts to crazy glue at the end. The glue sticks to the wings of the defenseless moth which is then pulled in, bound up and devoured. In this way an individual spider can capture many moths in a single night, even ones much larger than itself.

Aside from the extraordinary properties of the silk line and glue, the secret of the spiders' success is their ability to imitate the odours of sexual attraction of female moths, ensuring them a constant diet of male moths. The moths actually compete for their deadly fate. So far evolution has failed to provide any means of escape.

Well readers, what a lovely morning, the sun is shining and bright, the snow is disappearing fast. If we are just patient spring will come at last. We should all be thankful here at Hyland Crest, with good food, doctor and nursing care, we are truly blessed.

A real nice service in the chapel Sunday night, a goodly number there. Ruth Thompson played the music. Harold read the lesson and also led in prayer. Then Rev. Burgess took over, an interesting message he always brings. He said "If we live a Godly life here on earth, we will go to live with the King of Kings."

Monday morning down at fun and fitness, playing pocket ball, Amelia Good won out over all. Ray Jenkins and wife who have been spending their winter in the sunny south, came up to Hyland Crest to visit Ray's mother who hasn't been the best. We always know when Ray is here, he plays lovely piano music that is loud and clear. Then they showed us movies Monday, "The Managed Forest" and "The Fiddlers of James Bay".

Our newlyweds are back from their honeymoon, the bride said they had a lovely time. But it ended all too soon.

Rev. John Smith of the Haliburton Baptist Church came down this Tuesday. Held a very impressive service in the chapel Fred Ballard came with music to play. Thankyou for coming we would like to say.

We have a new helper in the dining room always willing to do her share. She has a nice head of lovely auburn hair.

Tuesday night was Fred Ballard's night, here at Hyland Crest. Fred plays lovely organ music and gives of his best. But he said I'm getting tired coming up here all by myself, perhaps some day not too far away they'll lay me on a shelf. I said Fred, haven't you heard of our newly formed quartet. If you need assistance we'll be there, you bet. So we played different kinds of music but not with song. Fred was so glad that we came along.

Down at Fun and Fitness different events take place. Thursday morning Bert Bowron won the potato race.

The Pentecostal ladies of the Ingoldsby came Thursday afternoon to Hyland Crest. Not only brought a lovely lunch but served it up the best. Also brought a birthday cake for people who had birthdays this month, that was very fine. Doris played, they sang some good old tunes, we had a jolly time. Then our male quartet took over, played some lively tunes, helping to entertain this Thursday afternoon. We thank Barry Vanesse and Don Cubbidge for calling the Bingo numbers here on Thursday night. Most of the players fared alright. Milly Wood won six bingos, some also won four, others won two, don't know many more.

Bert Bowron brought his tape recorder down to fun and fitness, with Al Smith playing the fiddle and Bert on the banjo. Take your partner by the hands and away we go.

Friday afternoon, oh my word, instead of sing song they were playing shuffle board.

The Lochlin Sour Notes came over Friday night and entertained us royally and did the job just right. They were really good all the way through, especially after they had a sip of good old Mountain Dew. They played and sang some good old hymns, which was just fine. We thank you for coming. Please bring along your sweet notes next time.

Do you say your prayers at night, the minister asked the little boy. Yes sir, the child answered. And do you always say them in the morning too, the clergyman inquired. No sir, the boy replied. I'm not scared in the day time.

Beginning March 31, through April 28th, the main Gallery of the Rails' End Art Gallery will be showing Paintings and Prints by Sheila Maki.

Sheila Maki is an expert technician; she uses a combination of media to create her images, resulting in fascinating blends of line and colour. Maki gives us abstract landscapes in which free-flowing islands of mixed hues and lines are highlighted by perfect, formal circles of pure colour.

The lines and circles so predominant in her work stem from the artist's love of mathematics rather than the organic.

Sheila will be present at the Gallery on April 28 at 2:00 p.m. She will be showing slides of objects and places which are springboards for her creations.

Also on display in the Waiting Room Gallery, will be Seven Haliburton County Artists. Included, will be paintings, weaving, jewellery, leather, and pottery, by Deborah Bates, Michael and Susan Butz, Judith Chapman, Ellen James, Charles O'Neil, Barbara Peel, and Mary Wallace. We would like to recognize these special County Artists for their excellent workmanship and creative minds.

The artists will be on hand for the opening of the show on April 4 at 8:00 p.m. at the Gallery. Admission is by donation and refreshments will be served.

In case you weren't one of the crowd in the full house at HHSS to see and hear the delightfully entertaining Tanglefoot concert, I must tell you it was one of the nicest ways to learn something of the history and folklore of early Canada. The music was foot-stomping good. The voices were beautiful. And the stories were told in the best old-timer tradition.

Finally, the winner of the St. Lucia draw is Mike Gardner, of Toronto. The ticket was sold by Barbara Carver of Haliburton.

It certainly looks as though spring has sprung. It is so nice to have beautiful, mild weather and, we are old, it is perfect maple syrup weather. (There goes the diet again!)

Don't forget this Thursday, April 5, the Committee for Alcohol and Drug Abuse is presenting a film at Archie Stouffer School Library at 7:30 p.m. Admission is free and refreshments will be served.

Saturday guests with Jeanne and Milt Sears were the Paul Warburton's of Scarborough and the Reg Leaman's of Keswick.

Best wishes to Mrs. Joe Warburton who is at present in Ross Memorial Hospital. We trust you will soon be well and back home with your family and friends.

Last week's winners at St. Paul's Anglican Church euchre party were, lone hands Shirley Elcome, others, Lil Porter, Tom Hurta and Charlotte O'Neil.

The Share and Learn group will meet to work on their latest crafts at the Library-Cultural Centre at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, April 11.

Money flowed like the Gull River in springtime at Rotary bingo March 27. Two $100 Nevada ticket winners, Helen Lee and Jean McKelvey, numerous $5, $10, and $25 winners plus the bingo cash. A large crowd enjoyed the evening with new games and a new jackpot format. The jackpot must be won every week and the larger the crowd the bigger the jackpot! Next Rotary bingo will be on April 24. All proceeds go the community projects, so plan to attend with a friend or two for a very relaxing evening out.

Greg Smith from Calgary, Alberta is visiting with his great-grandmother Mrs. Janie Kent of Minden. Hope you have a wonderful visit Greg.

Monday night winners at Club 35 in Halls Lake were, most lone hands, Jean and Cecil Burk. High lady - Minnie Dawson, high man - George Alsop. Low man was our friend Alex Stevenson. The door prize was won by Art Berdaam. Other winners were: Verna Hodgson and Cecil Burk.

Another interesting place to be this week is the Agnes Jamieson Gallery. This Thursday evening, April 5 at 7:30 p.m., Emily Skinner of Sandalwood Gifts will open the latest (and we hope highly successful) exhibit. This time we may see the works of the Three Islands Art Association, a group of 5 artists from the Bobcaygeon area whose work ranges from paintings to pen and ink drawings and pottery.

Sincere sympathy to the family and friends of the late Roy Eldridge who passed away last week. We were also saddened to hear of the death of Stephen Rastall of Stratford, former resident of Minden and a former owner of the Dominion Hotel.

Our poetry submission seem to be growing by leaps and bounds, we received no less than three this week, but owing to space problems we will have to hold two of them over until a later date. The following poem was written by Yvonne Guida and is dedicated to her friend Druh Garner, who can be seen on CKCO T.V. programs.

Toss a Coin for Life

Heads you win - tails you must fight,
Sometimes for your very existence.
We mortals are born into an enigmatic sphere,
Whirling and swirling through the eons of time
What God, Gods or Antichrist damned us to this existence?
Who can tell -
I say damned because so many of us are blessed
And can ride through life with hardly a glance or thought for our fellow man, While many of us are damned to think, to ponder, to drive ourselves almost to the point of insanity as to why things in life should be the way they are.
Why the blood, sweat and tears - why the indifference, the lack of love, while some poor fool will risk his neck for someone he does not know and who rarely gives a damn at his plight.
Forgive me if I sound bitter. This is not my nature.
I would give my life for a friend, and especially if that friend is a four-footed one.
To get down to the subject of numerology, which I know little of but is something I believe in, simply because so many things have happened in my life I cannot account for, so I cannot turn a deaf ear to the subject.
Number one of the scale (one to nine) stands for leadership. Number two stands for service to others. Three lends itself to life and popularity. Four for steadiness and family quality. Five for romance and artistic endeavour which I believe has something to do with my coin. Six is marriage - enough said. Seven spiritual and philosophical. Eight, wealth and financial acquisition. Nine, under which you learn the lessons of life.
Oh God, if only something of each of these coins would turn for us, what a Utopia it would be. We can only look to the clear skies and murmur God, please, just a little for me.

Yvonne Guida
